

I will make this thread easy and simple. It will give nice trend catch. So just u need to be ready for collecting pips from trend movement. We just need one indicator and it will make our life easy.

NonLagDot (20) is only what we need.

Let start: what we need we wait until the indicator change color from red to blue or vice versa, after that we wait first retracement to enter the market with pending order of the break of the retracement candle.

I will give some examples so u will understand it better.

Time frame any but we will start with M30.

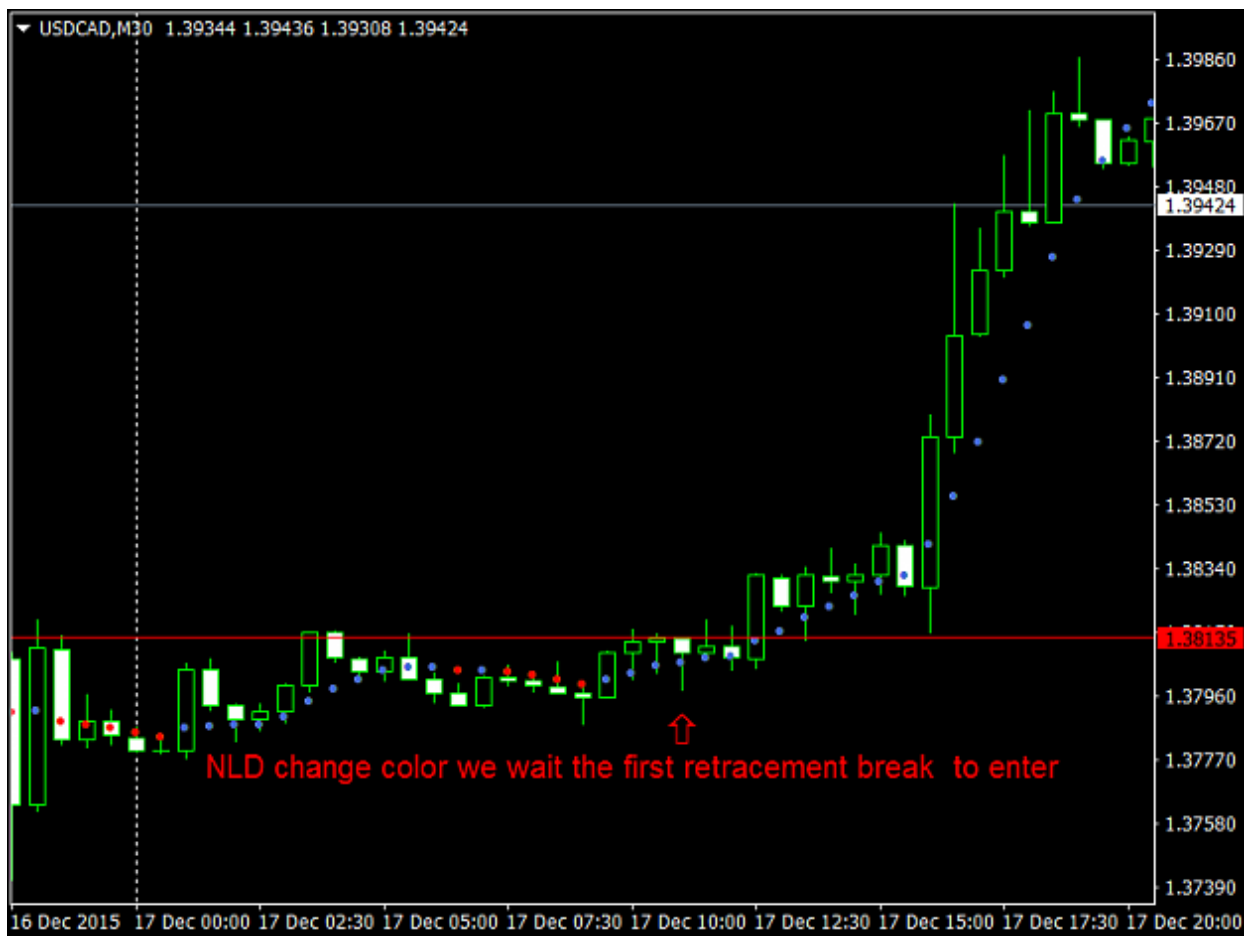

We will trade it as basket trading of 12 pairs: EU,GU,AU,NU,UC,UJ,EJ,GJ,CJ,AJ,NJ,EN .

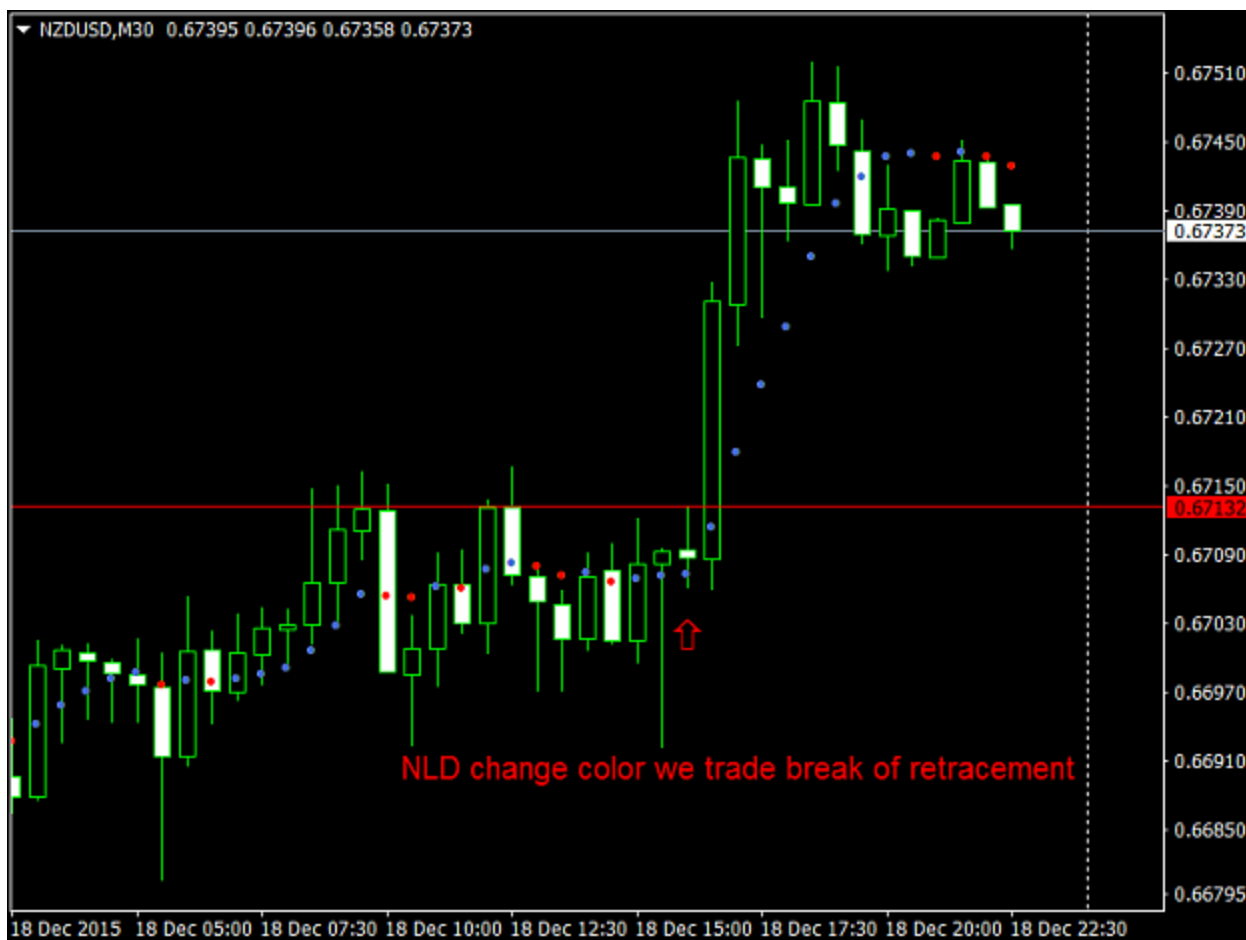

SL will be last swing. If opposite signal appear before hiting our SL 2 options available :

- 1- we keep both opposite trades each with SL last swing.
- 2- we keep both trades open with a gap the difference between 2 entries ( but in such case the pair is hedged which mean out of basket).

TP will be when basket will hit a weekly target ( each trader should put one).

here it is the right entry , retracement mean candle with opposite direction of the trend, If down trend we search bull candle, if up trend we search bear candle.

Time of session is always important , we need always to set our time trading. For target is up to each one trading style, u can target daily range or u can go for fix pips or catch the all trend. Each trader will choose his style and target.

So sell will open here?

Is this correct another example: ?

That's right u catch it.

The same chart with a huge profit potential

That's perfect u got the idea, for that I call it trend catching bcz u can catch huge profit for small losses.

Here is the Stop Loss.

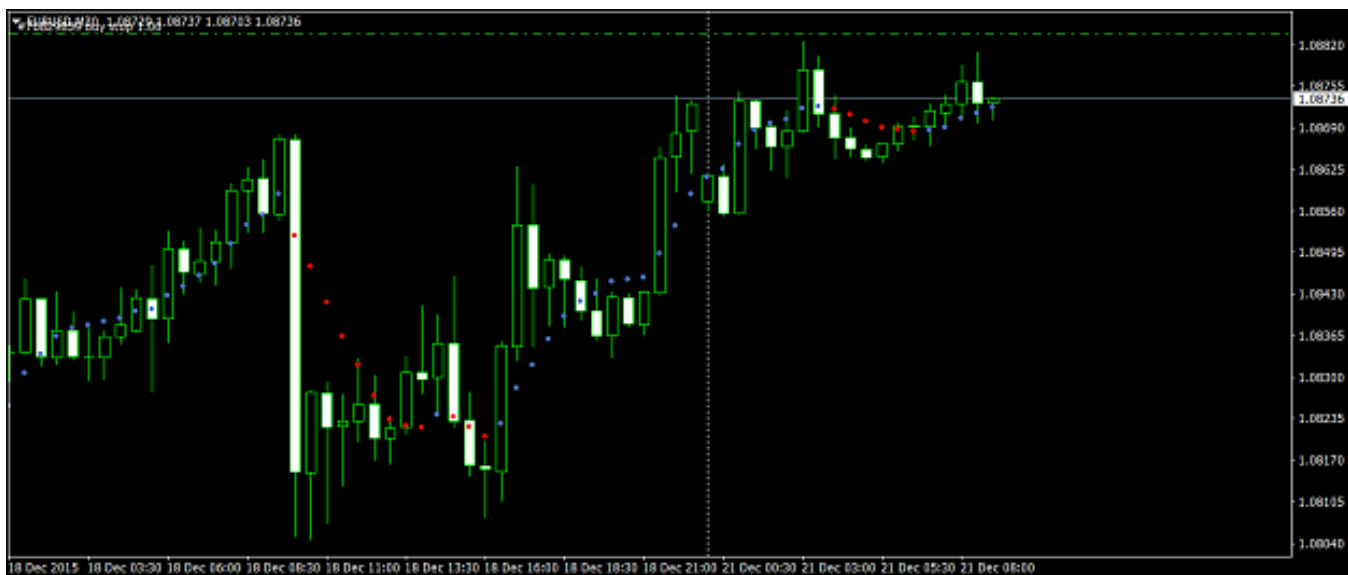

And we don't count dots I said usually we need at least 2 dots to form a trend.

Any pairs u can trade, but for me I trade a basket of 12 pairs, EU ,GU,AU,NU,UC,UJ,EJ,GJ,AJ,CJ,NJ,EN.

AUDJPY pending order

EU pending order

I move Stop loss to BE when it touch that level bcz some resistance in front of us but if broken target will be big one.

that's our new trade now.

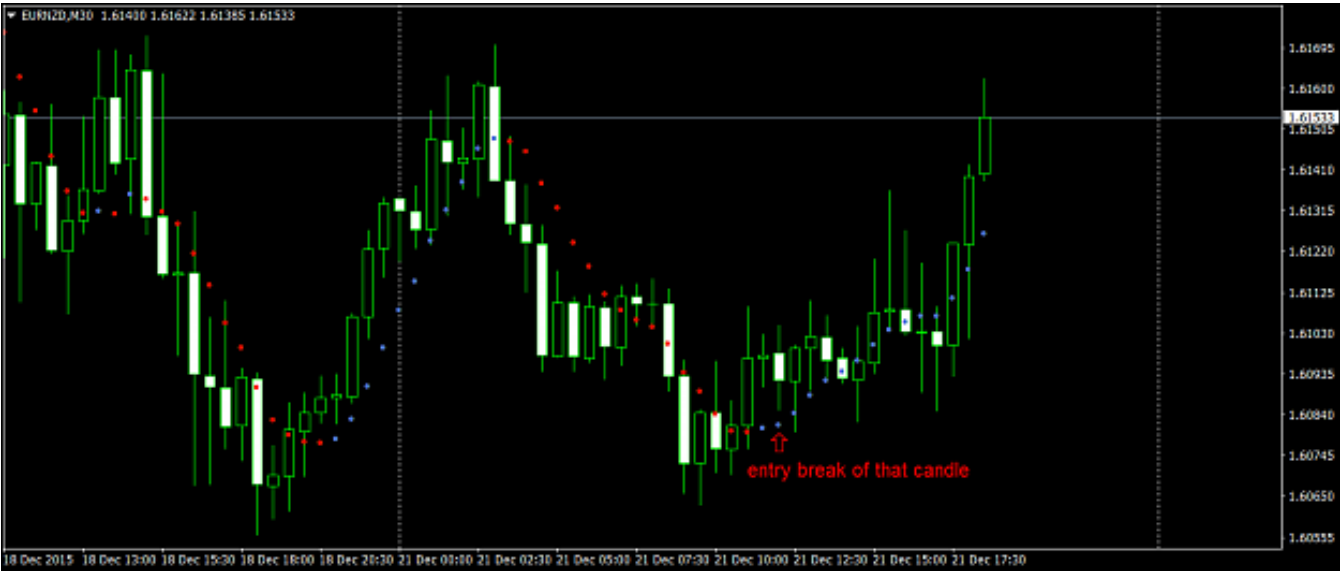

will post today trades for u the winning and losing ones for the basket trade .

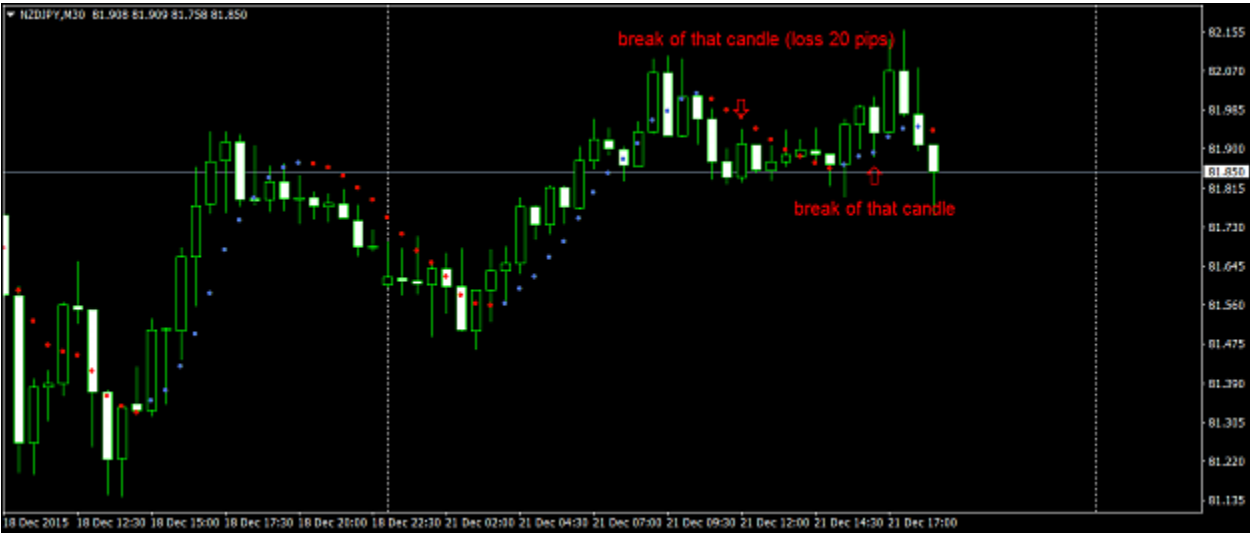

AJ with 2 losing positions

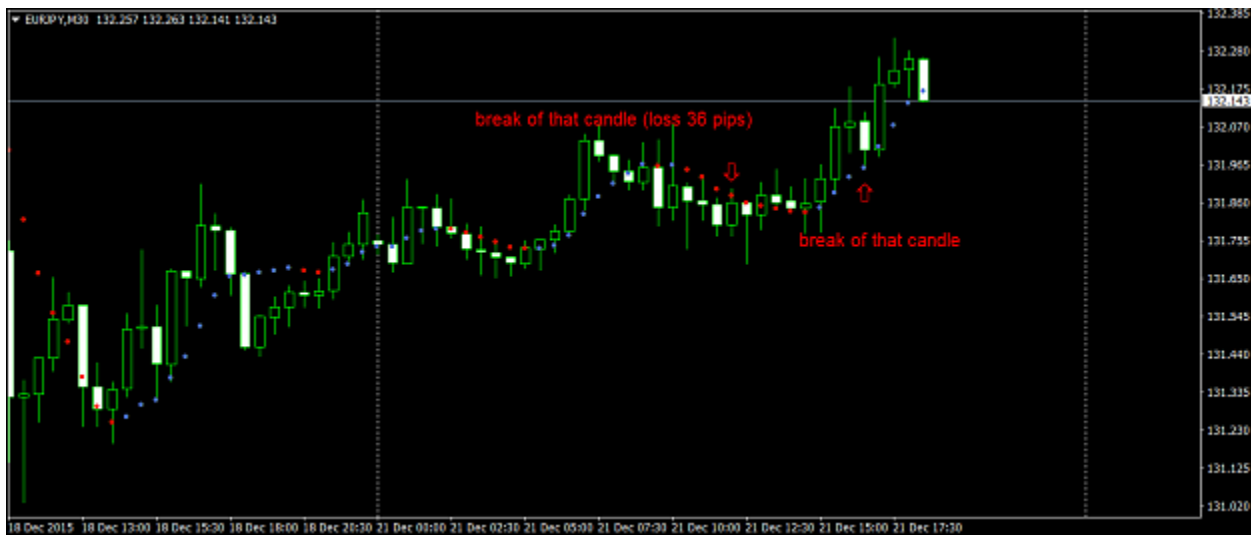

EN still open till now.

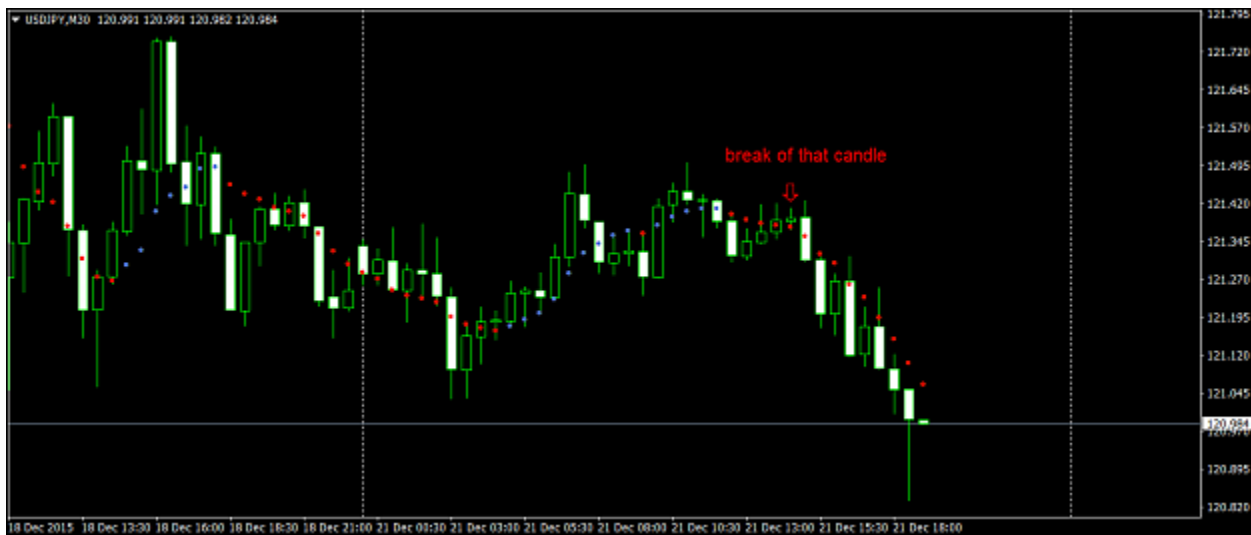

NJ one loss and other position still open.

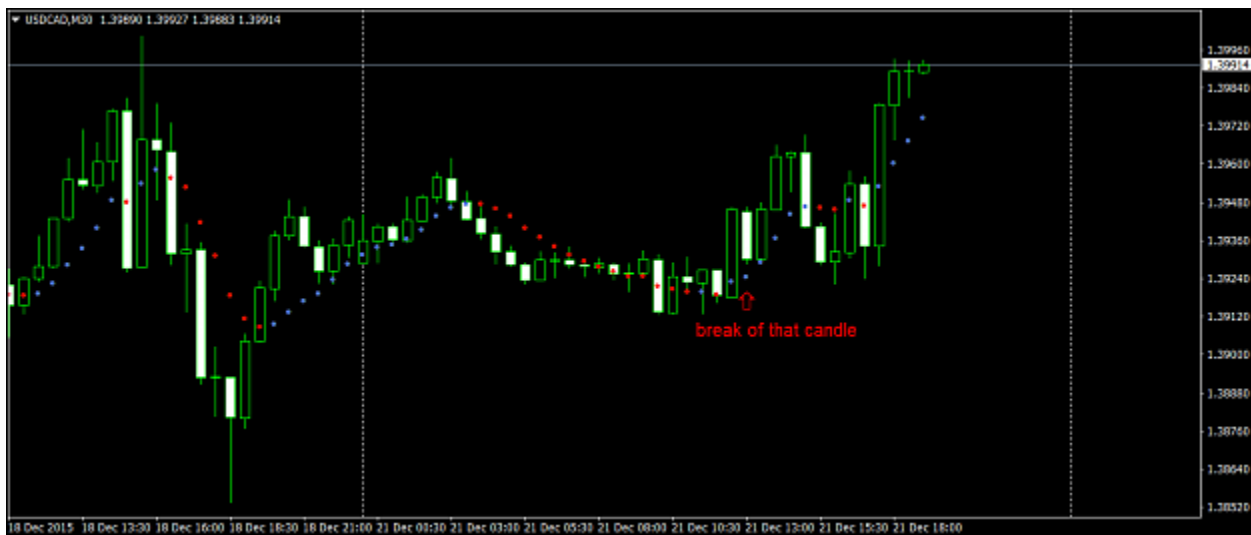

EJ one loss with 1 open position

UJ direct win

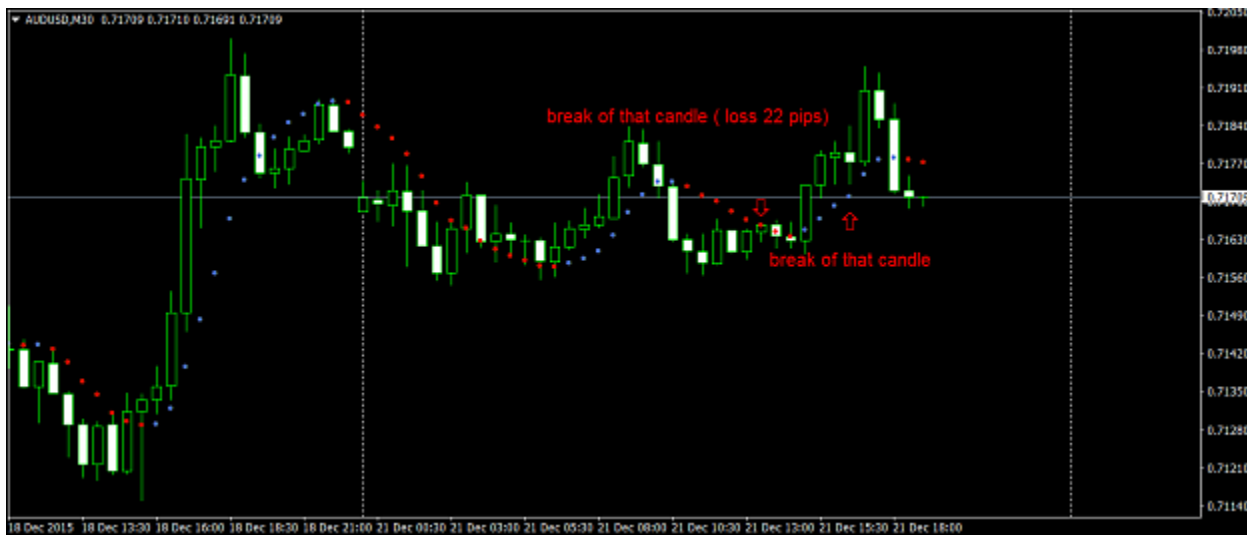

UC direct win also.

NU trade also in plus.

AU one loss and second is alive.

finally EU with 1 loss and open position.

losses are part of the game, but 5-8 losses show me that, and let say it happened for sure other pairs were doing good. we trade the system as basket not pair alone so if one loose other will be winner for sure. No way to have all pairs ranging at same time check it.

no hindsight at all, we search the trend in systematically way, i follow dots color to see the direction then i trade the retracement. as we know market move in waves so we search first wave formation then we trade the retracement. i didn't invent anything i am trading the market logic.

will post today trades.

Would you please tell about how you exit from your trade?

For me when the basket give 1000$.For others could be different.

What we are trying to do is to catch the trend start, when Dot change color we follow the dot color, if red we search sell signals and for sell signal we will wait retracement to enter at best timing, if we are going down so we will wait bullish retracement to enter, and for buy we search for bearish candle as retracement.

As basket trading yes 1 lot for all, I tried before to calculate different lot size for pip value but was hard for me so I did it more simple and trade it 1 lot for all as I am aiming fix amount.

u can pick any pairs u like and trade whatever pairs, for TP I say I hit a basket win of 1000$ weekly. but any trader can ride a trend or take any profit. the system will catch the trend start and up to each one to choose target.

I use 1 lot for each trade and for TP no fix for each pair just basket trading when it hit target will be closed.

I am giving entry point with logical set up , u are free to trade it or no. I am trading market nature by waves and trying to catch the first move. For result I don't have to show u my result trade ur own and find if it is good or no.

I want to make something clear, what I am trading is market nature we have to try to catch the trend , losses are part of the game always, but MM is the hard and important part of any system. What I said at first I don't trade the system all days of the week I trade it as a fix target. Others can find better way to trade it and that will be perfect while others will be losing money with the system. try to find always your own way in trading just take ideas from other traders, u don't need more than that.

How a good trader think, we trade what fit us not what others trade. So each one try to create your trading style with this simple system, and try to participate it here to help all traders.

When trading a basket some pairs will hit SL but others will be well trending, put a target for u let say u need 500$ when this basket hit 500$ close all basket and that's it.

Following big targets and overtrading will take all your profit, trade 1 or 2 days with fix target and enjoy your time all the week with spending it.

Like any other system higher TF is better then lower TF, so trading it on 4H and daily is for sure better but I post it on medium TF to get more entries and keep some action in the thread.

I totally agree with Indrek , fix target for long time is much better then trailing and following all trend.

That's why I always say set a fix target don't overtrade or try to win all trades what we need is that amount of money each one will put his target and try to reach it , if possible in 1 day would be great so u will get a 6 days off and u will wait next week to search new trades.

For lot size u are absolutely right that lot size should be adjusted but I answered that before it was hard to controlled it with different lot specially if trading low TF like M30, that's why I trade it all same lot size now, and when trading basket trade u will be safe even with different % risk. The key of the system is to take all SIGNALS for ALL PAIRS, u cant choose your trades.

For TP I don't set fix TP I keep them all open until it hit my target or I close them before going to bed and take next day signals.

For signals u should take them ALL and ALL for all pairs u are trading.

I trade it at 4h where the best result was, but I am sure that daily is also good.

UC 4H

UJ 4H

EJ 4H

NJ 4H

GJ 4H

AJ 4H

4H is of course different trading as MM but for entries it is the same.
for lot size u have to calculate each pair alone (4H)
4H isn't traded as basket should be traded each pair alone and no closing at 1000$ bcz not always u have trades on 4H charts.

How many pips the price has to move beyond the retracement candle in order to consider it as a valid break? Does this number change according to the time frame?

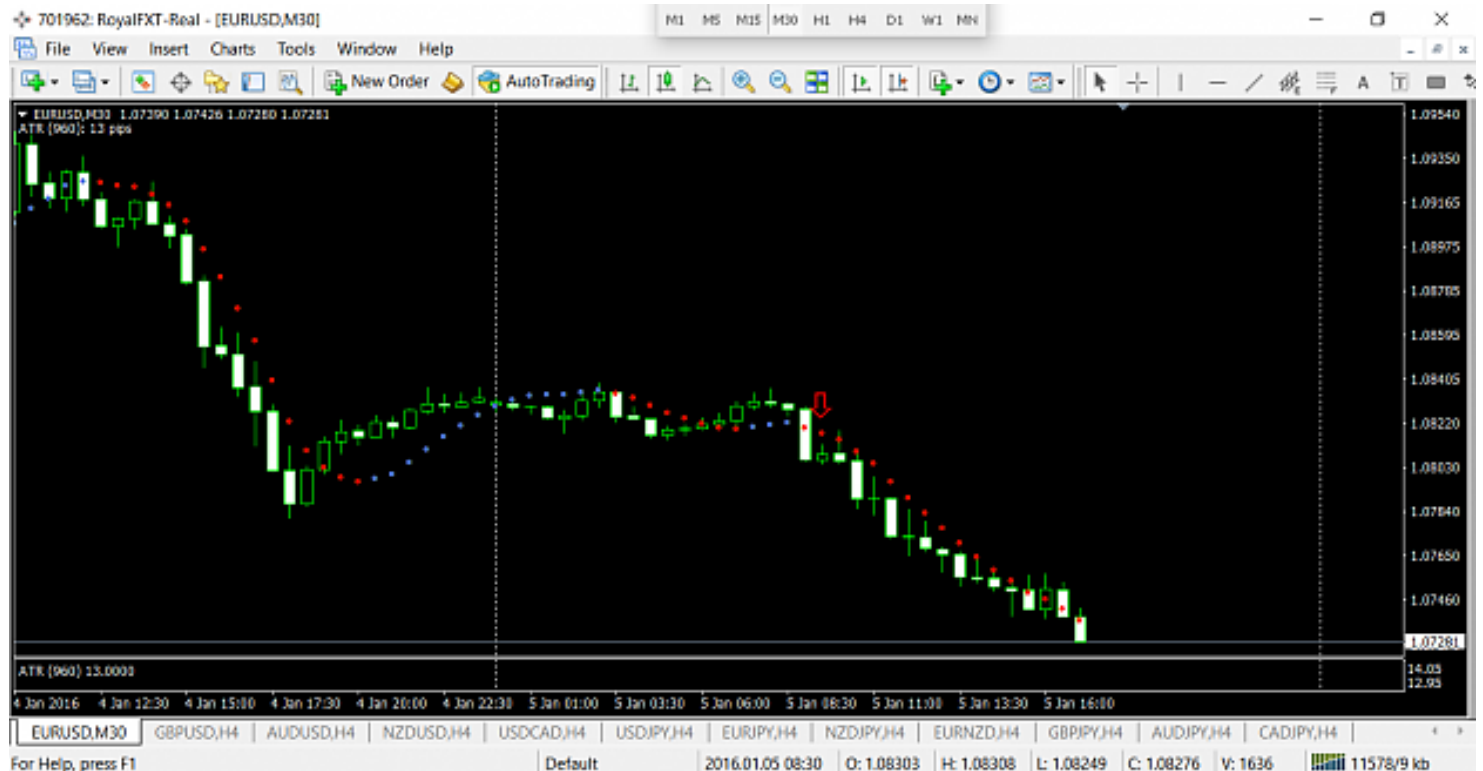

For me break is a break , and 1 pip is enough for break confirmation.

I always recommend to trade on low time frame with basket trading. At least 3 or 4 pairs will trend well covering all losses and giving profit. Impossible to loose them all , but the main idea to be on board when it start moving. Or u will miss the train.

Losses are part of the game , the only solution to cover it is with basket trade one pair will loose other will win and cover plus.

Just I want to add one important thing, for sure I am not trading the perfect way for the system u can make it better and I am sure of that. What I posted is a trading style. With different MM and set up could be much more better. So each one work to find his best way of trading. I answer your question the way I trade it.

I exit when basket hit my target not when it change color, color has no influence on open trades.

let me explain 2 ways to trade basket:

1- u can keep two open opposite trades which mean u canceled this pair from basket.

2-u keep both trades each with a specific stop loss.

this is GU chart will give a clear example of that today.

GU.

or u can forget GU from basket and admit the gap between 2 orders which is in this case:

buy order at 1.4665 and sell order at 1.4630 ( gap of 35 pips to be covered with other pairs)

Dear Lebanese, may i ask you if you exactly enter at the beginning of the candles that you have shown by arrow or not?

This candle I call it signal candle. the break of this candle is the entry point.

And stop counting pips they are not important, we trade for MONEY not for pips. if basket minus we keep it open if hit your MONEY target will close it.

EURUSD has developed a signal bar. No trigger yet. (WRONG)

NO, your entry would be too LATE the signal was earlier u CAN'T enter here.

Here was the right entry.

USDJPY Setup 117.87 would be a break of the trigger candle. (WRONG)

UJ entry also will be late also from here the trend already start earlier.

Here was the right entry.

Traders remember we need to catch the trend we will not enter at middle.

We search the trend start and in this case it wasn't there. It was already started.

EU pending order

EJ was closed early because we don't have a basket to trade so I consider it one individual trade.

Today is a fine example for not choosing pairs to trade, we always have to trade a basket, the one who took EU and UJ alone are stuck in lazy trades while other pairs gave us our weekly profit and we would close the basket with our weekly basket target and would take all this week off and enjoy spending money.

Yesterday all moves was at Asian session I had only 2 signals : one was BE and second small loss of 28 pips, but today I took my weekly target , today I made 1300$ so it cover yesterday loss plus 1k.

The key is:

- 1- basket trading.
- 2- fast exit from market.
- 3- fix amount of money ( don't be greedy).
- 4 -not to overtrade (discipline).

I am +2 GMT , my trading start at 7:00 am my local timing and usually I end in couple of hours.

You can do it visually and try to trade the nearest point to TOP and Bottom not in middle of the trend so your SL will be small and u can get it back easily.

First mistake for EG , the trend has started much before your entry, so u cant enter at the end of the trend and call it a loss , not logic at all, I always say we search trend start not trend end.

EG signal

First today I wasn't trading bcz yesterday I reached my weekly target .

For basket trading, the entries was earlier London session and we well know that when a big market open we could have a change in market direction, at first al basket was in profit so u had 2 options : 1- to close the basket at some plus amount u have to choose. 2- set all trades to BE and let it run.

So please the MM part I will not talk about it because it is each trader style.

( over trading will kill any good system, we trade for Money not for Fun so if u collect a good amount don't be greedy close the basket and spend the money elsewhere )

I told you the MM part is each trader style , for me I told you I trade one or two day in the week , when I reach 1k profit I stop trading and wait new week.

So as money management from my part I have a target of 1000 weekly which could be done in less then 2 hours.

Here where it would be my SL ( but as all pairs went in plus at first move if I was trading I would set all to BE when basket is above 50 pips plus)

No it wasn't even a trade we can call it a signal candle but wasn't broken so no trade.
