

Waiting at the Riverbank for Trade Set Up – Let price come to us. We don't chase after it

Crocodiles wait at the riverbank because it's a key part of their hunting strategy as ambush predators.

Patience is Key: Crocodiles are not built for long chases. Their hunting style is all about conserving energy and waiting for the perfect moment. They will remain motionless for extended periods, waiting for an animal to come to the water's edge to drink or cross.

Location, Location, Location: The riverbank is a high-traffic area for many animals. By waiting there, crocodiles are positioned in a prime location to intercept a wide variety of prey.

1. Market Open

Dedicate 15 min before Market Open to analyse pre market conditions, significant price levels and chart patterns.

2. HTF Key Level OHLC SnR / Engulf (H4 and above) around Market Open / Session

Draw horizontal lines/boxes in order to know the surrounding terrain

3. Trade Entry Confirmation around HTF key level

Wait patiently to align Entry Confirmation with HTF SnR / Engulf direction

Focus on Current Market Price (CMP) as we are short term scalper / day trader

The bottom line is: Entry confirmation at the right time and at the right place

SL: Strong one or two candles close outside engulf at the pattern head or right shoulder around 40–70 pips from trade entry

TP: SnR around 40–70 pips from trade entry

Before trade entry: Risk management – Stop Loss

After in profit: Trade management – Break Even and Trailing Stop

We aim for 70% win rate

Ask yourself will you be more consistent in getting 40 pips or 150 pips every single day?

Aim for Discipline, Patience and Consistency

Below is the trade entry confirmation pattern with unit position sizing recommendation for traders new to the strategy.
